

A DOG IN A STORE.

East Side Jeweller Fled in Terror from His Bench.

Policemen Necessary to End the Brute's Life.

Seeks an Owner to Pay for the Damage Done.

A dog of mad dog in Suffolk street, on Monday morning startled the owners of that neighborhood and attracted a crowd that filled the street block when it was learned that the dog had been safely caged in a store.

The dog, a mongrel with a shaggy coat and a ugly look, dashed into the store of M. Stess, at 32 Suffolk street. He ran behind the counter, with a falling from his mouth and commenced chewing the cork of a case of bottles at the feet of the jeweller.

Later, rushed from the store with a look of terror on his face, and was followed by a crowd of policemen. While he was gone, the dog jumped at the jeweller's work bench, smashed the work of a few minutes and was molishing bric-a-brac when the policeman arrived.

The officer cautiously opened the door and fired two shots, both of which took effect in the dog's fore legs. The dog then ran into the street and the policeman said he was dead.

Stress was cautious, however, and approached the animal with a broomstick, made a jump at the dog, and the dog was caught by the broomstick and thrown into the street.

The dog, by this time, was on the jeweller's bench again, and was shot twice more. Again the dog crawled beneath the safe and again he was diagnosed as dead.

The policeman, Campbell, the brother of the Delancey street station, took the dog, and he was taken to the station. The dog was then taken to the station and the fact can be established.

On Monday night, the dog was taken to the station and the fact can be established.

POINTERS ON THE RACES.

Well Balanced Fields at Brighton Beach.

Saratoga Shows the Best Card of the Meeting.

"EVENING WORLD" SELECTIONS.

First Race—Sauter, Topgalant, Vespasian.

Second Race—Florence, Factotum, Live Oak.

Third Race—Emma, Castanet, Ninevah.

Fourth Race—Rosa H. Addie, Billy Boy.

Fifth Race—Mr. Sams, W. B. Marguerite.

Sixth Race—Milan, Best Brand, Son Malheur.

From a speculative standpoint the public have nothing to complain about Brighton's card for today. All six of the races are well filled and so nicely balanced that the task of picking winners is no easy job. The track is in good condition and the races should be close and exciting throughout.

The fifth race, at a mile and a furlong, with W. B. Mr. Sams, Marguerite, Jodan, Marshall and others in it, is the feature of the card. The weights bring all very close together and a broomstick should make a jump at the dog, and the dog was caught by the broomstick and thrown into the street.

The dog, by this time, was on the jeweller's bench again, and was shot twice more. Again the dog crawled beneath the safe and again he was diagnosed as dead.

SARATOGA SELECTIONS.

First Race—Candelabra, Lamp-lighter, Cactus.

Second Race—Piscaron, Franklin, Tuscan.

Third Race—May Win, Tormentor, Aloha.

Fourth Race—Potentate, Rubicon, Prig.

Fifth Race—Gwendolyn, Kingston, Madrid.

Sixth Race—Mirage, Tramin, Applause.

This is another of Saratoga's extra days, and no stakes appear in the list of entries. Nevertheless, the card is the best card of the meeting. There are plenty of grand horses on hand, and owners only need to be stirred up vigorously to bring them out. The races to-day should furnish excellent sport.

The first furlong dash, in which Potentate, Aurelian, Prig, Rubicon and other fast ones go, promises to be a rattling contest from flag-fall to finish.

First Race—One mile and a furlong. 125 lb. E. Smith's Candelabra. 114 lb. G. E. Morris's Lamp-lighter. 125 lb. G. E. Morris's Lamp-lighter. 114 lb. G. E. Morris's Lamp-lighter.

EX-WARD MAN.

HOCK'S STORY.

orders were issued by Capt. Doherty, who was in the effect that the Captain directed his men to keep a strict surveillance over all disorderly houses or suspected houses.

Sergeant Patrick Lane came next. He told the same old story, varying it only to the effect that the Captain directed his men to keep a strict surveillance over all disorderly houses or suspected houses.

President Martin asked if there were any arrests from Mrs. Thuro's house on November and December, 1892. The time immediately after house had been raided and all hands fined in Special Sessions.

"I don't know," replied the sergeant. "The record shows that there were less than usual during those months. Can you explain that?" asked the President.

The sergeant could not explain it, but it is claimed that part of the "protection" system provides for the raiding of protected houses occasionally, when public opinion gets too hot, and that after the raid public opinion having been cooled off, the protection is given special immunity for a time.

Ex-Ward Man Hock's Story. Patrolman Charles M. Place did not add to the store of information, and after his name.

Patrolman John Hock, of the Twenty-fourth Precinct, in Goatville, formerly ward man or precinct detective had been called to the station and now accused with him.

The first thing Lawyer Louis J. Grant did in the case was to show whether the fact that he spelled his name "H-O-C-K" gave it so for the record when he became a police officer. The record showed it was spelled that way on the books of the Department.

"Did you ever see Capt. Doherty, or any one else, that you spelled your name H-O-C-K?"

"Mr. Thuro has testified that Capt. Doherty told her once in the station-house that he spelled his name H-O-C-K, so she could remember who to do business with, as his representative had never been lost."

"I don't know anything about that," replied Mr. Grant. "I never told a dollar of that."

Hock said he had told the officers in Hock's clothing and that he had been given evidence by every means.

"I couldn't put me face around there," Hock said. "I never told a dollar of that."

"You ever tell a man named Lawrence for the purpose of carrying the word to Mrs. Thuro that if she paid $1,000 to him, he would give her a new dress?"

"No, sir," Hock said. "I never told a dollar of that."

BOYS ON A BIG SPREE.

Spent More than $500 at Coney Island in Three Days.

Bretz Is Said to Have Stolen $2,000 from His Father.

Purchased Everything They Fancied and Threw Money Away.

CONY ISLAND, L. I., July 25.—Two boys wearing diamonds, dressed in fine clothes, with bicycles and having lots of money, were arrested in Coney Island, in the Bowery, at 12:30 this morning by Detectives Clougher and Harris. The boys have been at the island for three or four days, and as they spent money lavishly the police caught them.

The boys were arraigned in the police court today and said they were Oscar Bretz, seventeen years old, of 641 Bergen street, Newark, and Andrew Gommard, of 56 Charles street, Newark. When the boys were searched Bretz had $24.25 in his pockets and Gommard had $15 and a gold watch. Each boy had a heavily loaded revolver in his pocket. They were locked up on the charge of carrying concealed weapons and Bretz's father in Newark was notified.

Bretz, when arraigned, said he and Gommard left their homes in Newark about two weeks ago. Bretz had $24.25 in his pockets and Gommard had $15 and a gold watch. Each boy had a heavily loaded revolver in his pocket. They were locked up on the charge of carrying concealed weapons and Bretz's father in Newark was notified.

They said they then purchased the bicycles, which were new and highly polished, and the furniture of the hotel. They said they then purchased the bicycles, which were new and highly polished, and the furniture of the hotel.

On the three days the boys have been at the island, they have spent more than $500. Everything they fancied they purchased. Bretz had a diamond ring and a diamond pin last night to a young man who sang in the choir of the church.

The police have received word from Bretz's father, that Bretz stole $2,000 from him at a time of his disappearance. Mr. Bretz said he would come to Coney Island immediately.

The police are holding the boys pending the arrival of Mr. Bretz.
